A CHANCE FOR MAYSVILLE.

Hall's Safe and Lock Company Want More Room for Business.

Propositions from Several Cities for the Prize.

Cincinnati News, January 1st.

Scarcity of room, together with taxation, is complained of as a burthen by some manufacturing interests in this city, and some of the larger establishments have been compelled to move outside of the city limits. Kentucky towns, such as Dayton, Newport, Covington and Ludlow and Ohio towns on the lines of the prominent railroads have offered such advantages in the shape of greater room and comparative freedom from taxation as to induce some of the best and largest establishments to remove to the suburbs. Such removals necessarily carry with them a large number of employees, and while Cincinnati has grown both in business and wealth, the records do not distinctly show its progress, and the city appears to be left behind by those competitors possessing more room.

Among others of the crowded out concerns is the Hall Safe and Lock Company. This concern employs from six to eight hundred hands, and has been so identified with the business of Cincinnati as to give the city a national reputation in the manufacture of safes and locks. The reputation of this class of work, indeed, has gone to every continent, and Cincinnati safes and locks have a ready market throughout Europe, China, Japan, Northern Africa and South America, equaled by no other enterprise.

It is to be regretted that the business of the Hall safe and Lock Company suggests a retirement from Cincinnati as a manufacturing point. Mr. Joseph L. Hall, in speaking of the matter last night, said that favorable propositions had come to him from New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Springfield, O. He felt it was necessary to enlarge the works of his establishment and didn't perceive any opportunity for a suitable enlargement within the limits of Cincinnati. "I would like to remain in Cincinnati on account of its central location. From Cincinnati we can ship east and west and north and south with equal facilities. I believe that Cincinnati is the best point for the shipment of goods in any direction. Otherwise it is the center of the whole country. In addition to propositions from Chicago I have had propositions to locate at Pullman, which is a good railroad point and where I could obtain all of the room I possibly require for the location of my works. Our only trouble here in Cincinnati is a lack of space and light. Those we want. But taking in the value of property here, the scarcity of room, lack of light, and the lack of opportunities. Thus far we have not decided upon locality. We want to enlarge, however, and we have orders for a whole year ahead. Our desire is simply to so extend our facilities for the manufacture of burglar proof safes. We need more room. My idea is that we can't obtain it in Cincinnati. Propositions have come to me to locate in almost every large city in the country—even as far west as San Francisco—and I have even had propositions from London, Eng., where we do a large business. On account of our old relations with Cincinnati, and the facilities Cincinnati affords for shipping, we prefer to remain near here. But I can't tell you positively where we will go or whether we will go at all."

The Springfield Globe strongly urges the people of that city to unite and secure the prize.

The Brannan-Justin Paper Company of Louisville, has failed.

The Value of Literary Prestige.

A correspondent sends us the following story, which, if not true, ought to be contradicted: A good illustration of the partiality shown to literary persons of reputation was given some years ago in Boston. James Russell Lowell, a favorite contributor to the Atlantic, and one of the brightest of all our magazine writers, concluded to play a joke upon the popular monthly. He accordingly wrote a long, clever article, which he called the "Essence of American Humor," and read it to a number of his friends, who said it was one of the very best of his compositions. He employed some one to copy it, and sign it W. Perry Paine, and send it to the Atlantic with the request that, as it was a maiden effort, the editor would give an opinion in writing to said Paine. He waited a fortnight, but heard nothing from his paper, when, being in Boston, he dropped into the office of the Atlantic, and, meeting James T. Fields, adroitly turned the conversation upon humor and remarked it was singular so little was written upon the subject. Fields replied, "We get a great deal of manuscript on humor, but it is so poor we can not use it. I threw into the wastebasket the other day a long screed christened the 'Essence of American Humor,' which should have been styled the 'Essence of Nonsense,' for a more absurd farrago of stuff I have never seen." Lowell, much to the surprise of the editor, burst into a roar of laughter and informed Mr. Fields, of the authorship of the article. The editor turned all colors and swore it was one of Lowell's jokes. "Indeed it is," responded Lowell, "and the best one I ever played. I never thought highly of my scribbling, but, by Jove! I didn't believe it was the most ridiculous farrago of stuff you had ever seen."

By way of self-defense, Fields declared he did not read the thing, but that he did not believe that a man who signed his first name with the initial and the second full, could write for the Atlantic. That was about as ingenious an excuse as he could make for his partiality, but the story gives a just idea of how magazines are edited and contributions regarded. — Boston Transcript.

Noble Nature.

There are persons sufficiently enlarged to receive blame without pain, and yet not be able to resist the excitement of praise. Nobility of soul, magnanimity, ward off or counteract the pain that in smaller souls results from blame; but the same traits render their possessor more quick to the apprehension of a kind word, more grateful for a loving expression, more appreciative of appreciation. Why should it be thought an evidence of greatness to receive both praise and blame with equal stolidity? Must our emotional natures die in the process of our upward growth? Will they not rather become quickened to keener enjoyment continually? So would our susceptibility of pain become correspondingly quickened, but that our expanding reason nullifies its effect. — Helen Williams.

Two young Canadians who nearly killed themselves by blowing out the gas at a Bradford hotel, say they would do it again rather than turn the light down into the gas pipe and cause an explosion. The innocents are abroad and ought to be got home as speedily as possible.

"If the government interferes with us we will interfere with the government. The enemy who invades our territory must die." That is from the speech of a Mormon elder, and after looking around upon his audience for a moment, he added: "And don't you forget it!"

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain it effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure,' one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man. Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. j7d.

NOTICE.

IT having been asserted that I am preparing to move to the country and give up my interest in the Sewing Machine business, I take this method of announcing to my friends and the public that there is not a word of truth in it except that I will move my family to the country but will continue to sell the OLD RELIABLE SINGER at the same place, second street, opposite postoffice, and run my wagons in the country as heretofore. Competitors please notice the above. I am thankful to the public for the large patronage I have received for the past nine years, and respectfully solicit a share in the future.

Jan 2/4 & w3m G. A. McCRACKEN, Agent for the Singer Manufacturing Co.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER." Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."

150 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882. "I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE." Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."

Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882. "I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADGON."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882. No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVE., JANUARY 3, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

To-NIGHT the Barlow-Wilson troupe,
To pile the fun on thick,
Will play a piece that once, 'tis said,
Made certain persons sick.
The local managers, you know,
Wore very troubled looks,
When "Mascotte" made them dive into
Their little pocket books.

The streets of Maysville are dirtier than was ever known before, and ash heaps more numerous.

MR. SAM. CHUNN will, as soon as the weather is favorable, build a neat dwelling on his Third street lot.

The set of diamonds raffled at the Central Hotel, Tuesday evening were drawn by Mr. William Grant. The lucky number was forty nine.

A CONSIDERABLE quantity of river ice was housed in Maysville this week. It was of good quality and about six inches thick. There will be no scarcity of ice next summer.

GEORGE MEANS has sold his grocery store
in East Maysville to Alvin Franklin. Mr.
Franklin is one of the cleverest men in that part of the town and will no doubt be liberally favored by his friends.

THE Barlow-Wilson minstrel troupe missed the boat at Portsmouth and will not arrive until five o'clock this evening,
on the Bonanza. There was in consequence no parade. The performance will certainly take place this evening as announced.

Religious Services.

The Southern Presbyterian congregation
will have services at the Third street church next Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock
and also Sunday morning and evening.
Communion services Sabbath morning.
Services conducted by Rev. W. E. Case.
All are cordially invited.

Building Association Dividends.

The annual dividends on the various series of shares in the building association
have been declared as follows:

First series.....$2 20
Second series.....1 65
Third series.....95

This is five and one-half per cent. on the amount of money that has been paid
in to the association.

The Minstrels To-night.

Our citizens will have the opportunity,
this evening, of attending one of the best entertainments ever given in Maysville.
The troupe is the largest and the artists
the best known and most popular that have ever visited this city. The burlesque "Mascotte" is a funny afterpiece and will be much enjoyed. The costumes used are very handsome and costly. Don't fail to attend.

Reduction of Stamped Envelopes.

Owing to a new contract made by the postoffice department, stamped envelopes will be sold to the public after the first of January at a reduction of about ten per cent. on present prices. The letter sizes of the envelope will be sold at $1.80 per one thousand in addition to the postage.
The department has also arranged to print special return request notices upon the envelope, without additional charge, when ordered in quantities of four hundred or more. The department states that "it is a fact not generally known that stamped envelopes, when spoiled through misdirection or other causes can be exchanged for a postage stamp of the same denomination at the nearest postoffice."

sideration $1,250, cash, and other consideration.

Peter L Parker and others to Sarah A Shipley, 43 1/2 acres of land, on Stone Lick Creek,
consideration, $1,300.

J J McCarthy and wife to W T Tomlin, 19
2 roods and 31 poles of land, on North Fork,
consideration, $400.

Telephone Line.

A project is on foot to establish a telephone line between this city and Mt.
Olivet. Such a mode of communication between the two places is considered a necessity and the enterprise, as it is in the hands of some of our best citizens, will probably be successfully carried out. Persons in this city, or at Mt. Olivet, can learn all about the matter by calling at Owens &
Barkley's hardware store.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Miss Lulu Woolums, of Fayette county,
and Miss Myra Myall, are visiting the family of Mrs Miles Riley.

The marriage of Miss Anna Douglass
January to Mr. Stanley Fleetwood, of Chicago, will be solemnized this evening at the residence of Hon. R. A. Cochran, on Third street.

MR. H. J. SWARTZ, the efficient express agent, on the morning train has resigned
his place to engage in business at Paris.
Success to him. He will be succeeded by Mr. W. Fitzgerald, of Lexington.

COUNTY POINTS.

FERN LEAF.

Charles Haughey, who has been very sick
with typhoid fever, we are happy to say is improving.

Our business men report a very dull Christmas.

Our cooking club met at Mr. Evan Lloyd's last Friday night. We spent a perfectly lovely evening and will always consider ourselves under many obligations to Misses Alice and Lida
Lloyd for their kindness.

Mrs. Sallie Worthington is at Northmiddletown nursing her grand-daughter, Miss Ruth Cox, who is very sick with diphtheria.

R. D. Stevens shipped one hoghead of new tobacco of his own raising to Cincinnati, Dec.
23rd which brought him $16 per hundred.

There is very little tobacco selling in this vicinity, as the buyers seem a little backward
about purchasing.

J. R. and C. C. Savage have been at home spending the holidays. They return to college at Millersburg this week.

Prof. W. P. Maxey is at his post of duty again and everything moves with the new year.

Our friend, Allie, is making good use of his hitching post. ELI.

LIMESTONE.

Small grain looks very feeble.
Tobacco stripping is progressing rapidly.
The literary society will meet at the home of Miss Maggie Bateman to-night.

Mr Pat Claire, of Scott county, Ky., was visiting his old friends here this week.

Died, Mrs David Green, on Thursday, Dec.
21st 1882. This is the third death in the family within the past year.

The L L S met at the residence of Mrs Doty
last Thursday evening, but owing to the bad weather there was not many present.

Presented to the wife of R H Overly on Christmas night, a fine girl baby. The happy father is doing as well as could be expected
under the circumstances.

Rev Tom Reed will preach at the school house the second Sunday in this month. The last time he was here he had occasion to reprove some of his hearers. We hope it will not be necessary again.

The Christmas tree at the school house is said to have been very handsomely gotten up and well filled with things, substantial and good. Everything passed off very quietly.

MILLWOOD.

A happy New Year to all.
Misses Lizzie and Chloa Power, near Maysville, visited here last week.

Harry Dougherty has measles.
The supper at Helena Church, last week was not very successful.

Wm. King and Wm. Cord returned to North-middletown college, Monday after a pleasant visit to their parents.

Misses Annie and Frankie Hord returned to Maysville Convent, Tuesday.
The entertainment at Lewisburg was grand.
Willie Rice returned to Lexington school on Tuesday. ONLY.

HELENA.

Miss Ada Owens, of Northmiddletown, visited the Misses Lander, last week.
D. E. Kelley, formerly of this vicinity, who has been engaged in business in Washington Territory for several years is spending the winter with his father Amos Kelley.

Albert Wells, a Fleming county boy, who went to Texas, five years ago, is visiting again
the scenes and friends of his childhood.

Miss Anna Kirk, of Dover, Mr. John Caldwell and lady, and Mrs. Barnes and daughter, of Washington, were the guests of Mr. T. L. Best,
during the holidays.

Miss Sallie Shanklin has returned home
after a protracted visit to friends at Ashland, Ky.

On Saturday last R. M. Harrison, our enterprising merchant disposed of $224 worth of goods, $193 being cash sales. His motto is

"honesty is the best policy," hence the patronage.

Two buggies collided on the Mt. Sterling pike, Christmas day and Wm. Williams one of the occupants was thrown out and severely cut in the head.

No sales of the new crop of tobacco have been made in this neighborhood yet. The buyers appear to be indisposed to invest.

Christmas passed here without any unusual occurrence. Excepting the consumption of more than the usual amount of moonshine,
and the consequent noise and occasional fisticuff, everything retained the even tenor of its way.

Helena Lodge, No. 337 F. and A. M., elected
the following officers for the ensuing year.

M.—G. M. Campbell.
S. W.—H. G. Campbell.
J. W.—Rev. T. T. Dobyns.
Treasurer—J. W. Bateman.
S.—J. H. Wood.
S. D.—G. W. Ross, jr.
J. D.—S. G. Hord.
S. and T.—W. J. Swarts.

The suppers given by the ladies Thursday and Friday nights, for the benefit of the M. E.
Church, notwithstanding there were entertainments at all the neighboring towns both nights was a success socially and financially, and the ladies deserve to be complimented for the elegant manner in which everything was conducted. The net proceeds $60 will be expended for a communion service. During each evening, Mrs. Barnes of Washington, a popular organist and vocalist assisted by some of our local talent, delightfully entertained the assembly
with some excellent music. G. H.

State of Lewis at Large.

The steamer Return is laid up at Vancoburg.
The Masons of Vancoburg voted themselves and wives a select supper at the St. Charles which they enjoyed.

We wish a prosperous New Year to the BUL-LETIN, especially the boys who have set up my manuscript the past year.

Samuel Agnew, sr., one of the solid men of Lewis county, has been paralyzed, helpless and not expected to live from day to day.

The Masquerade at the Garland House at Vancoburg, last week, was one of the most brilliant social events of the season. Maysville, Brea Vista, Concord, Manchester and Rome,
tried to excel the State of Lewis in brilliancy
of dress manners and social etiquette.

Rev. J. W. Sims, of Flemingsburg, has received warm greetings from his many friends
after four years absence. His two sermons Sunday gave evidence of improved culture, study and decided advancement in elocution. We would be one among many to restore him to the people that appreciate his worth.

Fortune favors the brave as demonstrated in the elopement of Bill Rayburn and Annie Rose.
The old folks objected so Bill. He came to the town and hired a horse last Wednesday and by agreement he met her at a neighbor's twenty miles away and on behind she mounted.

Through the darkness of a long ride they rode under many difficulties in the small hours of Thursday morning. They boarded the Handy for Aberdeen, where they were married for two dollars and a half, when he offered one dollar. But remember Bill was only 19, and Annie 14. The bride and groom returned to the Handy. Henry Redden generously offered his bridal chamber which they took for several hours. Bill is game, and Annie is bright as a morning star, pretty as a mountain rose. They engaged the BULLETIN man to reconsider the old folks. We know them to be reasonable, generous and affectionate. So all is well that ends well.
